

* SCDO Launches Smart Contract Tokens on HyperPay Wallet ****

We are pleased to announce that SCDO Blockchain has successfully launched contract tokens (formerly referred to as sidechain tokens) on the HyperPay Wallet, marking a significant milestone in the expansion of our decentralized ecosystem.

Historically, SCDO did not have wallet support for viewing and managing these tokens. With this integration, SCDO has now addressed a key component of its ecosystem. Contract tokens on SCDO function similarly to Ethereum's ERC-20 tokens, providing developers with the flexibility to issue their own tokens and build decentralized applications (dApps) without central control.

The introduction of SCDO's contract token protocol allows for seamless scalability, enabling a variety of applications and services. This flexibility strengthens SCDO's commitment to decentralization and empowers developers with the tools they need to issue tokens and create advanced blockchain solutions.

We are confident that this development will significantly enhance user experience and open up new opportunities for projects within the SCDO ecosystem.

Thank you for becoming a member of the SCDO community!

Best regards,

The SCDO Team
